

LF Energy Overview

November 2024

What is LF Energy?

Linux Foundation Energy (LF Energy) is an independent, member-funded non-profit organization whose purpose is to accelerate the energy transition through collaboration on open source technologies and standards.

We are part of the Linux Foundation, the largest shared technology investment in the world.

What is LF Energy?

LF Energy serves as an independent, neutral steward for transparently governed open source technologies and standards that serve as the trustworthy, secure digital foundation for grid modernization and modern energy services.

Supported by 70+ member organizations, 1,000+ contributors from utilities, vendors, research and energy majors collaborate on shared, pre-competitive challenges through 30+ projects.

LF Energy hosts LF Energy Summit, the only conference focused on open source for the digital energy transition.

What does LF Energy do?

LF Energy complements existing organizations by providing a place to collaborate on open industrial-grade technology platforms and agile specifications.

Why we joined LF Energy...

"Joining the LF Energy ecosystem will help Hydro-Québec in its innovation process to better respond to the energy transition, while sharing its know-how and expertise with the energy market and helping to decarbonize it."

"LF Energy has been a huge benefit in supporting the EVerest community with knowledge of open source best practices, legal and marketing support, as well as many exciting networking opportunities in the energy industry."

"Driven by the needs of the energy transition, our digitalization roadmap is becoming titanic. While traditional software development models are failing to keep pace, being a strategic member of LF Energy has enabled us to pave the way for open source collaborations that meet our challenges."

"We're seeing not only from inside but also from people wanting to work for Shell that they want to work in an open source way, they want to work with tools like that, be a part of a community like LF Energy."

"Collaboration and partnerships are central to our digital strategy. As a member of LF Energy, we can expand our open source efforts, leverage the Linux Foundation's expertise in Open Source, and share knowledge and resources across the industry and academia for a greater collective impact."

"Simply utilizing open source is not enough. We are committed to actively contributing back, sharing our code with the world, and fostering the growth of the open source landscape. This is why Welotec has joined LF Energy."

Member Benefits Overview

Anyone can participate in an LF Energy project, but only members get access to...

Access and Networking	Ecosystem Stability	Governance &amp; Legal	Marketing	Community Growth
Access to thought leaders and peers through discounted access and members-only events.	Mitigate risk by financially supporting the open source ecosystem that your organization relies upon, ensuring you can rely on it for decades to come.	Leverage LF Energy governance and legal support to enable highly regulated entities to safely collaborate in the open.	Leverage our community and platform to amplify your reach, connecting with customers and collaborators.	Scale your R&D investments through collaborators and contributors found through the LF Energy community.
First Mover Advantage	Leadership	Advising	Talent
Stay on the cutting edge of digital edge transition, seeing and shaping where the market is going.	Demonstrate market leadership, and actively steer the direction of LF Energy through voting seats on the Governing Board, TAC, and other committees.	Receive white glove partnership from LF Energy staff to reach your digital goals through open source.	Improve access to and retention of talent by demonstrating your support of open source.

Benefit Highlight: Project Formation

"Through a series of sessions working together, LF Energy helped us shape a new project in a way that enables a shared, open foundation with space for partners to cooperate and innovate on top. We see LF Energy membership as a key strategic move to bring some of our projects to next level."

Benefit Highlight: Legal

"As a highly regulated utility, our legal team approaches new types of collaboration initiatives with caution. Through our partnership with the LF, we were able to connect our legal team with the LF legal team. This collaboration provided our legal team the reassurance and expertise needed, ultimately making our legal team not only comfortable but also enthusiastic about open source. Without the LF's support, we would not have been able to move this quickly and smoothly."
